

Additional Fee Courses

You must be registered for the annual meeting in order to sign up for a financial seminar. Register online or use the Registration and Housing Form 1 on page 50.

Financial Seminars

Saturday, November 28

1:00 – 5:00 PM (PS11)

Effective Real Estate Investment Strategies.....$149

J. Michael Moody, MBA

Many experts believe we are entering an era of unprecedented opportunity in investment real estate. Are you prepared? No other investment offers the combined advantages of cash flow, appreciation and tax shelter. And, real estate pays steadier and higher cash returns than stocks. This fast-paced, interactive course reveals benefits as well as pitfalls of numerous real estate investments, strategies, and vital issues. It also profiles how to find, evaluate, finance, acquire and sell investment real estate. Whether one's interest is passive, low-involvement or hands-on, fully involved, the goal is to provide guidelines for making informed investment decisions. Topics include:

- Strategies for Maximizing Investment Returns and Property Value
- Working With the Seller: Lender of the Future?
- Why Real Estate Investors Pay Fewer Taxes
- Home Mortgages: To Prepay or Not to Prepay
- Advantages of Owning Your Own Office Building
- Vacation Homes: Great Time to Buy?
- REITs: Passive Ownership of Shopping Centers and Office Towers

Register for Both Financial Seminars (PS21)..... $299

Monday, November 30

4:30 – 6:30 PM (PS01)

Asset Protection and Retirement Planning in the New (Stimulus?) Era.....$179

Barry Rubenstein, BS, JD, LLM

This presentation will provide critical new information and ideas on how to deal with your retirement plan and protect your assets from creditors. The recent economic crisis has spawned new legislation, problems and opportunities which directly affect your planning process and financial security. Included in this seminar are comprehensive illustrations and essential information to help physicians decide how to use asset protection techniques and effectively implement current retirement planning tools. Topics include:

- Asset Protection in the New Economy
- Understanding the New Rules for IRA and Retirement Plan Withdrawals
- How the Proposed Income Tax Rules Affect Retirement Planning and Asset Protection
- The New Federal Estate Tax Rules and How They Affect Retirement Planning
- Life Insurance as the "Silver Bullet"
- IRA Distribution Strategies, Including Roth IRA Conversions
- The "Good News" about the Bad Economic News

Grantsmanship Workshop

Saturday, November 28

1:30 – 5:30 PM (PS12)

NIH Grantsmanship Workshop.....$35

Facilitated by Robert J. Nordstrom, PhD

Speakers:

- Ruth Carlos, MD*
- Elizabeth Burnside, MD, MPH*
- Mitchell Schnall, MD, PhD*
- Xiang-Ning Li, MD, PhD*
- William Heetderks, MD, PhD*

This workshop covers grantwriting techniques, from concept development to submission and the NIH review process. It also provides an opportunity to experience a mock study session. Speakers will address basic applications, K awards and the new NIH grant application and review processes.

Register for Courses

Register using Form 1 on page 50. If you are already registered, go to RSNA.org/register to add courses online.